ABOUT STEVAGAS CORPORATION LIMITED

It all started in 1999 when the owner of Stevagas came to China to set his mark in the bulk buying industry and always be a notch higher than before. But setting a standard in a foreign land was not a cake walk. Understanding the market and adapting to the culture and norms were the initial step and then began the endeavors.

Stevagas aimed at revolutionizing the bulk buying market with the tactics and change it for the better good. Incorporating the latest technology, the Stevagas team set up a channel wherein the streamlined processes took the least time for reaching the buyers as well as sellers. The middlemen were cut off and all the unnecessary costs were cut down in order to get the work done at an unmatched pace. The network became so widespread that in most of the bulk selling deals, Stevagas cracked them and established itself as a trusted buyer. From training the team of professional buyers to ensuring the fastest logistics, there was a full-fledged team which made sure that the brand consistently tops the industry and provides the best services.
